

- The twin-arm robot enables movements similar to those of a human being.
- By selecting a manipulator that matches the sewing material, the robot deal with broad type of sewing material

Use

Car interior

Mechanical properties

1. A large-scale 3D sewing system can be configured by equipping a twin-arm robot with a sewing machine customized for the intended customer.

Operation demonstration video

For more information, please contact our company's Sales Department.